

We hope everyone is as well as possible during this very challenging time. We are keeping quiet so that other entities directly addressing the immediate needs of individuals and businesses affected by COVID-19 can be heard. In the meantime, we remain a resource for tech entrepreneurs, and we look forward to being a proponent of getting our economy going again on the other side. Stay safe, be well.

The Beaufort Digital Corridor is searching for an Executive Director.

Nicie Phillips, who has led our initiative for the most of the past year, will be leaving and is looking forward to handing things off to the right person for the next iteration.

This position is ideal for someone who is entrepreneurial minded and can think long-term, taking the organization to the next level under the guidance of the Beaufort Digital Corridor's Board of Directors. The candidate will also perform detailed, professional level assignments involving implementation, monitoring, and continual improvement of our programs and initiatives. You can read full job description HERE.

Please send cover letter and resume with recent salary history by email only - Email us HERE.

This is an exciting opportunity with an initiative that will be relevant for years to come, enabling our tech entrepreneurs to startup and grow their companies, and diversifying our local economy. We've had a great start- come grow with us.

BASEcamp

Because of the pandemic, BASEcamp is open by appointment only. Nevertheless, we are continuing to nurture Beaufort's technology entrepreneurs.

We are open for co-working and offer office space for tech remote workers in need of excellent WiFi and business facilities. Contact us at info@beaufortdigital.com for more information.

Don't forget: LowcountryWorks is a web portal with a tech-related company directory as well as talent and job listings. Please utilize and spread the word about this great resource for our area.

Our gallery is featuring artist Beth Duke with her Novel Botanicals show. Schedule a visit to see the works of this truly inspiring artist or click here to view BASEcamp Gallery.
