From the Director

Coming off 2019, 2020 began like any other year with the start of a new decade and a fresh vision for the year ahead. Then, out of nowhere, COVID-19 grew to become a global crisis. In no question that this global crisis is highly disruptive but that doesn’t mean that we will perceive changes to be all bad.

For many, this crisis creates opportunity. Indeed, precisely this relatively brief pause allows us to reevaluate all aspects of our businesses and operations and adapt our resources to weather through this. I am confident that Charleston’s tech community will demonstrate the same economic resilience as we have in the economic crises of 2000 and 2008. Persevere on!

New Members

Savant, LLC is a private equity and development company focused on transformative projects.

Iron Bridge Capital is a hybrid software-media and outside the Charleston region.

Bridge Commercial is a focused commercial real estate firm.

Vendr is a leading national IT consulting rm committed to helping companies industrialize their services portfolio. It allows us to evaluate all aspects of our business operations and optimize our sustainability.

Avoxi is a premier, cloud-based communications provider dedicated to helping businesses communicate more efficiently by offering them more control and flexibility over their communications needs.

New Investors

New investors are working in media & entertainment ventures since 1994.

CenturyLink is a global technology company headquartered in Monroe, Louisiana offering communications, data, and cloud solutions to the U.S. Government, private industry, and international markets.

Biobalabs is a regionally focused commercial real estate firm.

While Charleston’s tech companies continue to raise capital to drive growth, the economic environment around the COVID-19 crisis can make funding your business a little more challenging in the near term. The federal government’s economic environment around the COVID-19 crisis can make funding your business a little more challenging in the near term.

While many of us follow health guidelines and shelter at home, our friends in the construction industry deserve a big round of applause as the construction industry was completed this month and work continues on new projects that envision social and economic recovery.

For me, this crisis creates opportunity. Used wisely, this relatively brief pause allows us to reevaluate all aspects of our businesses and operations and adapt our resources to weather through this. It will pose a challenge for all companies. This too will pass!

Coming off 2019, 2020 began like any other year with the start of a new decade and a fresh vision for the year ahead. Then, out of nowhere, COVID-19 grew to become a global crisis. In no question that this global crisis is highly disruptive but that doesn’t mean that we will perceive changes to be all bad.

For many, this crisis creates opportunity. Indeed, precisely this relatively brief pause allows us to reevaluate all aspects of our businesses and operations and adapt our resources to weather through this. I am confident that Charleston’s tech community will demonstrate the same economic resilience as we have in the economic crises of 2000 and 2008. Persevere on!

New Members

Savant, LLC is a private equity and development company focused on transformative projects.

Iron Bridge Capital is a hybrid software-media and outside the Charleston region.

Bridge Commercial is a focused commercial real estate firm.

Vendr is a leading national IT consulting rm committed to helping companies industrialize their services portfolio. It allows us to evaluate all aspects of our business operations and optimize our sustainability.

Avoxi is a premier, cloud-based communications provider dedicated to helping businesses communicate more efficiently by offering them more control and flexibility over their communications needs.

New Investors

New investors are working in media & entertainment ventures since 1994.

CenturyLink is a global technology company headquartered in Monroe, Louisiana offering communications, data, and cloud solutions to the U.S. Government, private industry, and international markets.

Biobalabs is a regionally focused commercial real estate firm.

While Charleston’s tech companies continue to raise capital to drive growth, the economic environment around the COVID-19 crisis can make funding your business a little more challenging in the near term. The federal government’s economic environment around the COVID-19 crisis can make funding your business a little more challenging in the near term.

While many of us follow health guidelines and shelter at home, our friends in the construction industry deserve a big round of applause as the construction industry was completed this month and work continues on new projects that envision social and economic recovery.

For me, this crisis creates opportunity. Used wisely, this relatively brief pause allows us to reevaluate all aspects of our businesses and operations and adapt our resources to weather through this. It will pose a challenge for all companies. This too will pass!

Coming off 2019, 2020 began like any other year with the start of a new decade and a fresh vision for the year ahead. Then, out of nowhere, COVID-19 grew to become a global crisis. In no question that this global crisis is highly disruptive but that doesn’t mean that we will perceive changes to be all bad.

For many, this crisis creates opportunity. Indeed, precisely this relatively brief pause allows us to reevaluate all aspects of our businesses and operations and adapt our resources to weather through this. I am confident that Charleston’s tech community will demonstrate the same economic resilience as we have in the economic crises of 2000 and 2008. Persevere on!

New Members

Savant, LLC is a private equity and development company focused on transformative projects.

Iron Bridge Capital is a hybrid software-media and outside the Charleston region.

Bridge Commercial is a focused commercial real estate firm.

Vendr is a leading national IT consulting rm committed to helping companies industrialize their services portfolio. It allows us to evaluate all aspects of our business operations and optimize our sustainability.

Avoxi is a premier, cloud-based communications provider dedicated to helping businesses communicate more efficiently by offering them more control and flexibility over their communications needs.

New Investors

New investors are working in media & entertainment ventures since 1994.

CenturyLink is a global technology company headquartered in Monroe, Louisiana offering communications, data, and cloud solutions to the U.S. Government, private industry, and international markets.

Biobalabs is a regionally focused commercial real estate firm.

While Charleston’s tech companies continue to raise capital to drive growth, the economic environment around the COVID-19 crisis can make funding your business a little more challenging in the near term. The federal government’s economic environment around the COVID-19 crisis can make funding your business a little more challenging in the near term.

While many of us follow health guidelines and shelter at home, our friends in the construction industry deserve a big round of applause as the construction industry was completed this month and work continues on new projects that envision social and economic recovery.

For me, this crisis creates opportunity. Used wisely, this relatively brief pause allows us to reevaluate all aspects of our businesses and operations and adapt our resources to weather through this. It will pose a challenge for all companies. This too will pass!

Coming off 2019, 2020 began like any other year with the start of a new decade and a fresh vision for the year ahead. Then, out of nowhere, COVID-19 grew to become a global crisis. In no question that this global crisis is highly disruptive but that doesn’t mean that we will perceive changes to be all bad.

For many, this crisis creates opportunity. Indeed, precisely this relatively brief pause allows us to reevaluate all aspects of our businesses and operations and adapt our resources to weather through this. I am confident that Charleston’s tech community will demonstrate the same economic resilience as we have in the economic crises of 2000 and 2008. Persevere on!

New Members

Savant, LLC is a private equity and development company focused on transformative projects.

Iron Bridge Capital is a hybrid software-media and outside the Charleston region.

Bridge Commercial is a focused commercial real estate firm.

Vendr is a leading national IT consulting rm committed to helping companies industrialize their services portfolio. It allows us to evaluate all aspects of our business operations and optimize our sustainability.

Avoxi is a premier, cloud-based communications provider dedicated to helping businesses communicate more efficiently by offering them more control and flexibility over their communications needs.

New Investors

New investors are working in media & entertainment ventures since 1994.

CenturyLink is a global technology company headquartered in Monroe, Louisiana offering communications, data, and cloud solutions to the U.S. Government, private industry, and international markets.

Biobalabs is a regionally focused commercial real estate firm.

While Charleston’s tech companies continue to raise capital to drive growth, the economic environment around the COVID-19 crisis can make funding your business a little more challenging in the near term. The federal government’s economic environment around the COVID-19 crisis can make funding your business a little more challenging in the near term.

While many of us follow health guidelines and shelter at home, our friends in the construction industry deserve a big round of applause as the construction industry was completed this month and work continues on new projects that envision social and economic recovery.

For me, this crisis creates opportunity. Used wisely, this relatively brief pause allows us to reevaluate all aspects of our businesses and operations and adapt our resources to weather through this. It will pose a challenge for all companies. This too will pass!